

WHY LUXOUT SHADES CHILD SAFETY

Every product we send out is in accordance with the latest safety standards as set forth by the Consumer Product Safety Council and the Window Covering Manufacturers Association. For enhanced safety, we also offer cordless and motorized window treatments.

Remember These Safety Rules...

- Install only cordless window coverings in young children's bedrooms and sleeping areas
- Replace window blinds, corded shades and draperies manufactured before 2001 with today's safer products
- Move all cribs, beds, furniture and toys away from windows and window cords.
- Keep all window pull cords and inner lift cords out of the reach of children. Make sure that tasseled pull cords are secured out of the reach of children. Make sure that tasseled pull cords are secured out of reach with a cord cleat, and continuous-loop cords are permanently anchored to the floor or wall. Make sure cord stops are properly installed and adjusted to limit movement of inner lift cords.
- Lock cords into position whenever horizontal blinds or shades are lowered, including when they come to rest on a window still.
- Never mount products with accessible back cords, such as Roman or Woven Wood Shades, within reach of children.

As of 2010, we are now making all roman shades with a shroud located on the back of the shades to prevent hazardous loops from forming with the cords on the back. As a part of the compliance for the child safety standards set by the Window Covering Manufacturers Association, Inc. all shades with loose cords in the back require this shroud. For any roman purchased prior to March 28, 2011, you can order a FREE Child Safety Retro Fit Kit.

All products that are delivered come with the appropriate safety and warning labels.

The warning label (to the right) are an example of this - as it is important for parents to understand the potential risks associated with corded shades and blinds. If you have any questions or concerns - please do not hesitate to contact us directly. Or feel free to reach out to the safety agencies below. Your children's safety is our number one priority!
